

To whom it may concern, the effort by the powerful lobbying interests to limit the programming content and the right to conduct business of XM Radio is unfair and not in consumers best interests. The power of choice is a freedom that many have fought and died for in the storied history of the greatest democracy on the planet. I am not trying to make this issue greater than any other, it is just that America stands for personal freedom of choice. The choice to decide what services and products we purchase should not be limited unless it is illegal or harms others. The terrestrial based radio stations should improve their programming, give consumers a broader range of choices and reduce commercials if they wish people like me to return to them. I purchased my XM radio three years ago, it is installed in my vehicle, my wife's vehicle and we use it at home. Please don't let companies dictate what we as consumers can choose from.
